1 Scope of Application

These General Terms and Conditions of Sale and Delivery shall apply to all sales and deliveries of measurement instruments from OxyGuard, save as modified by written agreement between the customer and OxyGuard.

2 Quotations and Orders

- 2.1 Prices and quotations made by OxyGuard are exclusive of VAT and any other Danish or foreign taxes, rates or duties. All prices and quotations are stated ex works (INCOTERMS 2010) Farum, Denmark.
- 2.2 Price quotations made in writing by OxyGuard are valid and binding for a time period of 3 months from date of the quotation, unless a different time period is stated in the quotation or unless it is stated that the quotation is only indicative.
- 2.3 Once the customer has placed an order, the customer has no right of cancellation.
- 2.4 OxyGuard is not bound by an order until OxyGuard has submitted an order confirmation.

3 Time of Delivery

- 3.1 Time of delivery is stated in the order confirmation
- 3.2 If the customer does not pay in due time an amount stated in the order confirmation as payable prior to delivery, OxyGuard shall be entitled to cancel the delivery agreement. OxyGuard shall further be entitled to claim compensation - irrespective of whether the delivery agreement is cancelled or upheld. OxyGuard shall have the right to claim compensation, e.g. for loss of profit of up to 20 percent of the invoice price for instruments covered by the delivery agreement without having to substantiate the loss suffered.

- 3.3 If delivery by OxyGuard is delayed by more than one month without the occurrence of any of the circumstances listed in clause 4 below, the customer shall be entitled to terminate the agreement, provided, however, that OxyGuard - despite a written request submitted after the end of the said month - fails to effect delivery within a reasonable time limit. Irrespective of whether the customer terminates or upholds the agreement, the customer shall only be entitled to claim compensation for delays in accordance with the general rules for compensation under Danish law. Except if OxyGuard has demonstrated gross negligence, OxyGuard shall in no event be liable for any consequential loss, loss of profit, or any other indirect losses whatsoever.

4 Grounds for Relief - Force Majeure

- 4.1 If delivery is delayed by more than three months or prevented because of force majeure, both parties shall be entitled to terminate the delivery agreement and the customer shall not be entitled to claim any kind of compensation whatsoever for direct or indirect losses. Force majeure includes but is not limited to strikes or other labour disputes, defects or delays in deliveries from sub-suppliers, wars, riots, inability to obtain supplies, damage by fire and water or any acts of god.
- 4.2 OxyGuard is entitled to terminate the delivery agreement if changes in public taxes, rates or dues or in the supply of raw materials, foreign exchange fluctuations, or any other circumstances beyond OxyGuard's control make an agreed price lower than OxyGuard's costs of executing the order.

5 Passing of Risk and Transportation

- 5.1 The instruments are sold ex works (INCOTERMS 2010) Farum, Denmark.
- 5.2 If the instruments are sold under terms requiring that OxyGuard arrange the transportation the customer will be charged for any safety measures and protection required under normal transport conditions to prevent damage to the instruments.

6 Retention of Title

- 6.1 The instruments shall remain the property of OxyGuard until paid for in full to the extent that such retention of title is valid.

- 8.1 On receipt of the instruments it is the customer's responsibility to ascertain whether the shipment is undamaged, the number of instruments received corresponds to the number of instruments ordered, the instruments meet the description of the instruments ordered and whether the instruments are free from defects.
- 8.2 The customer loses his right to invoke any defect in the instruments or variance of quantity or quality in relation to the agreed delivery, if the customer does not make a written complaint to OxyGuard within 30 days from date of delivery. If it was not possible to identify the defect upon delivery the time to invoke defects is counted from the date when it was possible for the customer to identify the defect.
- 8.3 OxyGuard's liability for defects in the instruments existing at the time of delivery, is limited to defects that appear within a period of 24 months after the time of delivery. OxyGuard does not warrant merchantability, fitness for a specific purpose or other implied warranties with respect to the instruments. OxyGuard is under an obligation to remedy defects, which are notified to OxyGuard by the customer in accordance with clause 8.1 and 8.2. - 9.4 In the event that any third party makes a claim against either party for compensation according to this clause, such party shall forthwith notify the other party thereof.
